THE VINCIBLES A SUBURBAN CRICKET SEASON By Gideon Haigh

THE SPIRIT OF CRICKET ISN'T DEAD. IT'S JUST UPPED AND MOVED TO THE SUBURBS.

Every summer weekend, the parks of Australia turn themselves over to countless thousands of club cricket matches. One of those clubs is the Yarras.

This is the inside story of their most memorable season, told by the vice-president, chairman of selectors, newsletter editor, trivia-night quizmaster, karaoke impresario and club greyhound shareholder, Gideon Haigh.

The Vincibles is about playing for love, winning with grace, losing with humour, valuing your community, and other anachronistic notions. It features 69 ducks and 257 dropped catches. (Not that we're counting.)

Gideon Haigh began his cricket career in the St James Presbyterian under-12Bs, aged nine. He has also been a journalist for twenty-five years. He has won the Australian Cricket Society's Literary Award five times, and the Chewy Onya Boot Award for the most not-outs in a season at South Yarra Cricket Club twice. He is the author of Inside Out: Writings on Cricket Culture, The Racket and Good Enough: The Ashes 2009.
