GREAT AUSTRALIAN SPORTING MOMENTS

Edited by Michael Roberts, with Michael Tormey

Great Australian Sporting Moments captures in words and stunning photographs the biggest and most memorable moments in the history of Australian sport.

Our sportsmen and women (and horses) have produced many remarkable moments over the years. There have been moments of history, as long-held records are broken or previously unimaginable heights reached. Moments of high drama, with headline-making controversies, heartbreaking failures and nail-biting victories. And moments that are simply magic, when you're just happy to say, 'I was there when ...'

Featuring all our major sports and many of our sporting legends, Great Australian Sporting Moments is a must for anyone who has a passion for sport.

Michael Roberts is a journalist, author and sports historian who has written or edited more than a dozen books. His favourite sporting moments were watching Collingwood win the 1990 Premiership, cheering on the Socceroos as they beat Japan at the World Cup in Germany and going crazy in Bay 13 over Dennis Lillee's last-ball dismissal of Viv Richards at the 'G in 1981/82.

Michael Tormey is a sports journalist whose favourite sporting memory revolves around the circumstances that led him to be sharing a drunken hug with his old man at three in the morning after the 1996 AFL Grand Final.
