HOWARD'S END THE UNRAVELLING OF A GOVERNMENT

by Peter van Onselen & Philip Senior

Only when the Queensland results started to trickle in after 7 p.m. Sydney time, indicating a landslide swing to Labor, did John Howard concede the election was lost ... This was the first time he would consider what he would say ...

From the co-writer of John Winston Howard, the definitive biography of the Prime Minister, comes Howard's End, which takes us behind the scenes of both parties on the announcement of the election campaign and traces the stunning collapse of the Coalition in its last year in government.

Peter van Onselen and Philip Senior piece together the events in the year leading up to the 2007 federal election, following the protracted downfall of Australia's second longest-serving Prime Minister and the unravelling of the government as it lurched from crisis to crisis.

In the tradition of Pamela Williams' The Victory, Howard's End analyses and makes sense of the result and its far-reaching implications for the people of Australia.

Peter van Onselen is Associate Professor of Politics and Government at Edith Cowan University. He is the co-author, with Wayne Errington, of John Winston Howard.

Philip Senior is completing a PhD in Political Science at the University of Sydney.
