GANGLAND SYDNEY

by James Morton and Susanna Lobez

Vivid and explosive, Gangland Sydney is compulsive reading.

With its intake of English criminals in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries, Sydney had a ready-made criminal class in operation. From the Razor Gang Wars of the 1920s and 1930s through to the rise of the East Coast Milieu in the 1970s and the intense rivalry between outlaw motorcycle gangs in the 1980s, Gangland Sydney puts Sydney's criminal past under the microscope. Also under examination is Sydney's notorious crime hotspot Kings Cross, as well as the role the New South Wales police force has played in both helping and hindering the growth of Sydney's criminal empires.

Gangland Sydney is an unmissable book for anyone wanting to know the gritty details about Sydney's dark underbelly.

James Morton, a former defence lawyer, is one of Britain's leading experts on crime, and the author of more than twenty books including his bestselling Gangland series.

Susanna Lobez is an actor-turned-barrister-turned-broadcaster. She has been an ABC specialist legal broadcaster on The Law Report (radio) and Law Matters (TV). She has written feature articles for the Age and columns for the Sunday Herald Sun.

They are the co-authors of the bestselling Gangland Australia, Dangerous to Know and Kings of Stings. James Morton is also the co-author of Shotgun and Standover, an account of the Painters and Dockers' Union.
