THE MOST DANGEROUS MAN IN THE WORLD

The inside story on Julian Assange and the WikiLeaks secrets

by Andrew Fowler

The Most Dangerous Man in the World is the thrilling, definitive account of WikiLeaks and the man who is as secretive as the organisations he targets.

Through interviews with Julian Assange, his inner circle and those disaffected by him, Fowler tells the story of how a man with a turbulent childhood and brilliance for computers created a phenomenon that has become a game-changer in journalism and global politics.

In this international thriller, Andrew Fowler gives a ringside seat on the biggest leak in history. He charts the pursuit of Assange by the US and Sweden and how in the eyes of many Assange had become, according to the Pentagon Papers whistleblower, Daniel Ellsberg, 'the most dangerous man in the world'.

Andrew Fowler is the head of the ABC's investigative journalism unit, and a contributing reporter for the ABC's Foreign Correspondent and Four Corners programs. He has been Chief-of-Staff and Acting Foreign Editor of The Australian and a reporter with SBS Dateline and Channel 7, and was a founding member of Lateline in 1990. Andrew has won several awards including the United Nations Peace Prize, the Human Rights Award, and a New York Festival silver medal.

It was recently announced that Hollywood-based Josephson Entertainment and Michelle Krumm Prods. have jointly optioned feature film rights for The Most Dangerous Man in the World.
