WELCOME to the underground world of street art. A group of street artists known as Everfresh make their mark on the inner Melbourne suburb of Collingwood, and show graffiti can be arty and likeable.

Everfresh: Blackbook demonstrates how talented young artists express their message to the Melbourne art scene with explosion of colour and distinctive black lines. The book gives an insight into street art around the city - the endless pages of dynamic colours and wacky cartoon characters are but a starting point.

Their distinctive techniques of graffiti and stencilling can easily be distinguished. Walking the streets of Collingwood can yield the same experience as an art gallery.
