France in good taste

Shannon Bennett's France: A Personal Guide To Fine Dining In Regional France (Miegunyah Press, $45, written with Scott Murray) gives you information straight up – if the Vue de Monde chef doesn't like something he'll say so – and this guide features some of his favourite French recipes. After 20 years spent exploring Paris, journalist Janelle McCullough offers Paris: A Guide To The City's Creative Heart (Pan Macmillan, $50), divided by arrondissement and then by interests – design, bookshops, style and so on. Not many surprises here, but it's good-looking.
